Year-End Greetings from Forest Li, Wensten Accounting Inc.

December 5, 2011

My valued clients:

It's already middle of December, and I would like to thank you for using our services in 2011. We appreciate your loyalty in us; we wish you and your family a very Happy Holiday Season and a Prosperous 2012!

To celebrate my dad's 90 years birthday, we had a trip back to China in May 2011. The birthday party was held at parents' home in Yunnan, China. With four generations and each generation with multiple siblings under the roof, it's a lot of people. This was the first complete re-union of my extended families after over 30 years, it took us quite a time to introduce or get introduced to the late-coming in-laws and kids. Canadian ice wine was served and songs were sung in the party. Again, this was the first time I and my other three brothers sang deliberately to our parents – we have sung, many times, for our classmates, friends, kids and spouses, but, how many times have we sung directly to our parents! ... The best thing of the trip is to see my both parents are still very alert and active. I wish they are well forever.

Wensten Accounting continued to meet new clients from all walks of the community, including new immigrants, international students, and business owners in 2011. It presented three sessions of the Income Tax Clinic in the New Canadians Centre, and started contributing tax-related papers to the new magazine – Newcomer Bulletin, which has come into being in Peterborough since September 2011.

Many people had difficulties in dealing with the review of their returns by Canada Revenue Agency (CRA). It is common for a return to be selected for review, and it is important to reply on time. If you do not provide supporting documents, you may be asked to return the tax refund back to the government. Normally it's very simple to response, you just need to fax CRA the required documents, such as rent receipts, T2202A and so on. If you need help, please contact us.

As the new tax season is coming soon – starting February 2012, we would like to remind you some of the tax saving credits, such as property tax / rent credits, medical / donation credits, education credits, child fitness, art and activity credits, first home buyer tax credits, moving expenses, working tax benefit, public transport credits, pension splitting, and so on. Some of the credits are new. When we file your return, we will claim all the applicable tax credits for you and your family. It is our unyielding commitment to seek maximum tax benefits for you!

Also, if you know someone who needs bookkeeping and income tax services, please introduce our services to them. We are ready, willing and able to take new clients!

Thank you again and See you soon!

Truly,

Forest Li
